

Distinctives of the Log College Program

Face-to-Face Interaction – the development of interpersonal skills, and a view of ministry as all-of-life.

Group Discussion unto Prayer – taking questions and concerns to prayer, and the answers to praise.

Reading Worthy of a Second Read – less quantity, higher quality.

Read to Think – especially to know God.

Socratic Questioning – for the development of personal conviction and practical growth.

Knowledge of God – with all Scriptures, and all topics, the question is, “What does this say about God?”

Discipleship – no bifurcation between ministry and life, or between knowledge and character.

Ordination – peer-reviewed, as serious as boards and the bar exam.

Qualifications –high entrance and continuation requirements.

Church Ministry – owned and supported by the the local church.

Flexible – a core adaptable to individual personalities and callings.

Pursuit of God – the program is purposefully demanding. This motivates men and befits a high calling.
